"As an outdoor sports retailer we are always looking for an item to compliment our current assortment. This year we decided on outdoor cooking and we discovered FireDisc a perfect fit for the outdoor enthusiast. The portability factor combined with quick set up gets you cooking in minutes. Our commitment to doing in store demos and posting videos on social media has had a tremendous impact on product recognition and sales."

Marc Drewek, The Reel Shot

"I love the outdoors and I love to cook. I have owned many coking devices and have even sold several and I have never liked anything as much as the FireDisc. It cooks anything you can dream up and does it in a way that surpasses any other grill I have ever used. I liked mine so much, that after the first meal I cooked on it, I called to become a dealer."
